

Sotilitarianism : Social Utility based Capitalism - a Tokenized Transparency Solution to Economic Political and Fiscal Tyranny

Politic party

Socio economic intelligence and experience is un parallel it is what seperate me from the other greats like musk gandi or Marx

A blue print of the possibility of collaboration between AI and humanity.

Since I founded and put this all together, and make this my career, how can we build in a basis reward mechanism so I can support myself and continue to integrate sotilitarian tofi transparent capitalism on a global economic and political scale?

Build in a initial in profit mechanism for founder that decreases gradually to zero over a

Sotility is an inclusive participatory community based on autonomous ai managed decentralized ToFi reward mechanisms and modalities that motivate the integration, creation, innovation and perpetuation of actions, ideas, businesses, political parties and public policy that benefit the many over the individual through direct monetary benefits for the individual.

Hurting an innocent individual is unconscionable, but if a few individuals happiness or utility are negatively affecting the happiness or utility of the many, then those few must be stopped...no one person should be allowed to negatively impact the happiness and utility of the collective... NEVER...

Individual sacrifice, like a teacher or nurse or non profit worker, that benefits the many at that individual expense should be rewarded as much or more as say a great business innovation, even though they both add to the utility of humanity, the nobility and inspirational element that comes with self sacrifice should be recognized, championed and rewarded on par with great innovation in a soutilitarian economy and community...

Sotility economics and transparency modalities can motivation even public officals to be self sacrificing positions that reward transparent soutilitarian actions like uncovering, mitigating and eliminating corruption in government and championing direct democracy and integrating soutilitarian participatory policies that directly reward individuals to participate in our democracy like having a decentralized physical infrastructure blockchain for voting that uses a DApp and the device its downloaded as both a more efficient and easier way for people to vote as well as using thier device as a micro node that participates and adds the the Decentralization and security of the voting chain... it also acts as a wallet to collect monetary rewards for voting which can be increase by an on a Learn to Earn structure that rewards reading, completing, and furthur passing a quiz on the policies presented by political candidates and the senate, ect...

with that helps humanity in a totalitarian system preventing the progress of the many, then the many

Through my experience in both extremes of the socioeconomic community spectrum, no matter how big or small or rich or poor, or intellectual or basic, when an individual is a part of a community and their participation, behavior, and ideas adds benefit to that community is then validate by the community... those are the strongest communities that last the longest... totality is an inclusive participatory one for all, hence all for one, eco-social community for all of humanity

Difference between a protocol and blockchain and tokenomics and a defi ecosystem and how does the soutilitarian ToFi transparency modalities and their effects on capitalism and democracy as a whole fit into and effect the aforementioned systems?

Greed and Ego and Power and Validation are were the main sides of humanity that stage 1 capitalism championed and celebrated through financial rewards and it worked better than any economic system in history, however the the dark side of the stage 1 capitalism modality is corruption and Tyranny and degradation of community and with it empathy among humanity as a whole... Sotility flips that original modality on its head by financial incentivizing action, innovations, business and behaviors that increase the social utility of the whole rather than the individual and champions self sacrifice for the greater good sense using the Greed and Validation part of the human condition for for the greater good and is a solution economically and politically as a stage 2 version of capitalism called Soutilitarianism or Soutilitarian Capitalism, but what about human desire for Power and individual Ego? Does Sotilitarianism satiate those or how do those sides of humanity fit into Sotilitarianism??

Sotilitarianism is basically a stage 2 or evolved version of universal basic income that instills social financial security through participation instead of blanket handouts... now sometime there needs to be blanket handouts for disabilities or injuries or the elderly... but in almost all circumstances even the most needy side of humanity still participates in the economy even if it's just to eat... thoughts?

We are applying counter culture anti authitarive culture utilitarian community principles to the macro economy and society... it's like Martin Luther king said "judged not by the color of their skin but the content of their character" sotiltiy validates not by the quantity in your bank account but by the quality of your behavior and ideas and character
